

SHAWSHANK

Schools Re-Imagined

Leadership Conference

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 20, 2016

Join us for a tour of the former Ohio State Reformatory in Mansfield, where much of the critically acclaimed and #1 fan-favorite movie, The Shawshank Redemption, was filmed.

Be a part of Schools Re-Imagined

- As educational leaders, our focus is to re-imagine today's schools taking a creative look at how we might "free" students held captive by traditional, outdated instructional practices.
- With a clear purpose in mind, we will tour the Mansfield Reformatory, get insights from our keynote speakers and participate in roundtable discussions.
- Get ready for a meaningful day by watching The Shawshank Redemption—for the first or umpteenth time—and refresh your memory of this Academy Award nominated movie.

FEATURED SPEAKERS:

KEVIN HONEYCUTT

After growing up in poverty and attending schools all over the United States, Kevin Honeycutt taught K-12 art for 13 years. He joined ESSDACK, an Educational Service Center headquartered in Central Kansas, where he researches and develops creative approaches to reach at-risk students, including Project-Based-Learning models.

Kevin promotes what he calls "Tradigital Learning," combining traditional and digital learning ideas. His new book, Midnight Run, details his difficult childhood growing up in a dysfunctional family.

CINDY PENNOCK-HANISH—The Power of Hope

With more than 20 years working in urban education, Cindy Pennock-Hanish was an award-winning K-12 classroom teacher and coach in the Cleveland Metropolitan School District, as well as Athletic Director, Dean of Students and High School Principal. In addition, she was a member of the Streetsboro Board of Education for 18 years. A retired combat veteran, Cindy served in the U.S. Army for 20 years, both as an enlisted soldier and a Quartermaster Officer in the Army Reserves, including multiple overseas tours.

Since her conviction for aggravated vehicular assault and completion of a one-year prison term, Cindy candidly shares her experiences and positive message of the power of hope with young people and other audiences.

DATE:

Wednesday, April 20, 2016

TIME:

7:30 a.m. – 3 p.m.

Register at Mid-Ohio ESC and travel together by bus to the Mansfield Reformatory. You will hear a thought-provoking keynote speaker, take a tour and participate in group activities. Return to Mid-Ohio ESC for lunch and afternoon speakers, including roundtable discussions. (Note: Prison tour is not handicapped accessible and includes walking and climbing stairs.)

COST:

$75 per person with prison tour and lunch included. Register four individuals from your school district and the fifth is free.

REGISTER:

Register online at events@moesc.net. If paying with a PO, mail a copy of the PO with the printed registration form to Mid-Ohio ESC, 890 West Fourth Street, Mansfield, OH 44906.

QUESTIONS:

Call Amanda Mahon, Director of Education at Mid-Ohio ESC, at 419-774-2502 or e-mail at mahon.amanda@moesc.net or e-mail Amy Palermo at ITSCO at info@itsco.org or call 614-470-4488.

